

LIN Media, along with its subsidiaries, is a local multimedia company that own and/or operates 34 network affiliates in 17 U.S. markets, as well as interactive television web sites, mobile platforms, performance-based local and national advertising solutions, and other digital services.

Our company values the experiences and perspectives that a diverse workforce brings to our daily operations. Established in 1998, LIN Media's Minority Scholarship & Training Program awards two-year scholarships and internships to ambitious multicultural students who are planning a career in broadcast television and digital media. By encouraging students to pursue their goals in multiplatform broadcasting, LIN Media is promoting diversity in the workplace and helping to ensure the dynamic future of local media.

Two scholarships are awarded each year – one for an individual focused on a career in broadcast television, and one for an individual focused on a career in digital media.

Eligibility

- Applicants must have a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA and be a declared major in broadcast journalism, digital multimedia, mass/speech/digital communication, television production, or marketing, at an accredited university or college within the United States.
- Applicant must have completed sufficient semester hours or similar educational units to be classified by his/her college or university as a sophomore.
- Applicant must be a citizen of the United States, or have permanent resident status; and be of non-white origin.
